

DATA ANALYST

Launch your professional career! We have an exciting opportunity for someone to work closely with and support our Data and IT team, in a highly engaging and fast paced environment. Play a key role with a thriving organization by providing analytics to help inform our business decision making and strategy.

We offer a highly competitive wage, career progression, ongoing learning and development, and an impact on our local community. Join us on the beautiful Sunshine Coast and get the best of both worlds – a relaxing lifestyle filled with recreational activities including boating, hiking, and much more, while only a short 40-minute ferry trip from Vancouver. The incumbent will have some flexibility to work remotely, with travel required.

What You'll Do

The Data Analyst will find data solutions, actively anticipate and resolve challenges, while also providing operational data support. This position will generate various reports and administer our IT systems, which includes our newly implemented CRM platform, Salesforce. This position works to enhance and maintain all responsibilities of the data team and other duties as required.

What Does the Ideal Candidate Bring?

In addition to formal post-secondary education and strong data knowledge and experience, we are looking for an individual who is incredibly organized, with an ability to prioritize workflow and anticipate needs, with the ability to communicate results to various audiences; experience with Salesforce or other CRM systems would be considered an asset. The successful incumbent will be adept at problem solving, decision making, establishing strong working relationships, and working collaboratively.
